HELD IN PHILADELPHIA IN 1876,

PELOUBET, PELTON & CO.'S STANDARD ORGANS,

IN COMPETITION WITH THE BEST REED ORGANS OF ALL THE WORLD,

WERE AWARDED A

MEDAL AND DIPLOMA OF HONOR.

"For the following reasons, viz: Because the REED ORGANS exhibited by them, being of their ordinary product for the market, were instruments of excellent and even quality of tone, sonorous, yet delicate, and giving a desirable variety in expression. They were also of good workmanship, and were quiet in action of bellows and keys."

PELOUBET, PELTON & CO.'S

Standard Organs.

The REED or CABINET ORGAN has fairly won its position as the equal of and complement to the Piano Forte and is sure to be the musical educator of future millions.

In the manufacture of this instrument the makers in the United States lead the world in quality and quantity, producing, when running full time, more than one thousand five hundred Organs per week, that sell for over five millions of dollars per annum.

The REED or CABINET ORGAN is the legitimate successor of the Seraphine and Melodeon of the olden time, and contains the united wisdom and experience of all its improvers during the last thirty years.

Nobody has a monopoly of any principle or process of its construction. Therefore the best results will come from superior knowledge, skill, facilities and care.

Our facilities are of the best. Our factories were built and are owned by ourselves. They are filled with the most ingenious labor doing and labor-saving machinery, operated by skillful workmen of long experience directed by competent foremen; all under our own supervision.

The result is that among the best Organs made, "THE STANDARD" has steadily maintained its place in the front rank, and is now recognized as superior in Quality, Volume and Variety of Tone—in Power of Expression, Beauty of Design and Excellence of Workmanship.

POINTS OF SUPERIORITY.

1. In Simplicity of Construction; securing precision of action and ease of access; most important considerations.

2. In Excellence of Voicing; giving a large volume of broad, smooth Tone superior in FILLING and CARRYING powers; also peculiarly fine SOLO effects and the utmost PROMPTNESS OF UTTERANCE, repeating like a Piano.

3. In Power of Expression; secured by an IMPROVED BELLOWS that gives an abundant supply of wind, and by the KNEE SWELL, the best swell known, and the GRAND ORGAN STOP, thus obtaining a perfect Crescendo, Diminuendo or Forzando at pleasure.

4. In fine Solo Effects, by the use of the Clarionet, a new stop of 8 ft. pitch ; the Saxophone of 16 ft. pitch, both useful in chorus ; by the Voix Celeste, a delicate solo stop of peculiar pleasing quality of tone ; and by the improved Vox Humana. This last is best heard in connection with a soft 8 ft. stop, and in soft passages having sustained tones.

5. In the use of an improved Octave Coupler, sure in action, and not liable to get out of order that doubles the power and brilliancy of the Organ.

6. In a Manual Sub-Bass, giving great breadth and smoothness of tone.

7. Our New "Campanella" Stop, just introduced ; clear, ringing and distinct in its tone, it makes a pleasing contrast to the more sober tones of the Organ.
